adding balance to your news....our tasty updates.

New Flavors

With the holiday and Valentine's Day rush behind us, we're using the springtime to do what we do best — step into the bakery to create even more delightful, healthier alternative products for our customers. Several new flavor varieties are already in development, but as one of our valued family members, we'd love your input.

Click Here to share all of those fun flavor ideas you've always wanted to have made with muscle. If we choose to develop your idea, you'll be the first to try it!

Try our New Flavors – FREE!

When developing new products, we're lucky enough to get small batches of new flavor concepts to test and share with friends and family for feedback. As one of our VIP customers, we'd like to let you share in the fun. Beginning now and through March, place an order of $75 or more and receive a handful of new product samples which may or may not ever be available to the public!
